Insight from Fr. Flood

11TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Spirituality and Faith - Practice loving people. It is true that this requires effort and continued practice, for some are not very lovable, or so it seems - with emphasis on "seems." Every person has lovable qualities when you really learn to know him.

In Sympathy - Our loving prayers and deepest sympathy are extended to the families of Louis Youskievicz, Doris Mesenburg, and Thomas Smith Sr., who were called to their eternal rest this past week. Please pray for them and all our departed friends and relatives.

Welcome - To our newest family member Mason Dennis Schade who was baptized here last weekend and to new parishioner, Alex Grant.

Banns II - Tony DeAngelo and Christopher Congeni

Banns III -Lisa Mielke and Jerry MacMurray
Heather Lambert and R. B. Brown

Taize & Benediction, Sorrowful Mother Shrine June 16, 7-8PM - Taize prayer involves simple songs interspersed with readings, and moments of silent prayer. This service promises to leave you with an inner quiet and peace. Taize service will be every third Wednesday of every month at 7pm.

From Father Dave's desk.....

I still am savoring God's delights from my week of silence with the Trappist monks at the Abbey of the Gethsemani in Kentucky. It is all-too-easy for God's Word to be drowned out by the worldly noise that pollutes our day. The Trappist monks structure their day around times for prayer. Then, whatever time remains is used for manual labors which keep their monastery self-sustaining.

It strikes me that the opponent tempts us daily to do otherwise – that is, to work feverishly and only afterwards give to God whatever is left, if anything. During my days of retreat it was amazing to enter anew into the cycle of prayer – and not feel captive to a frantic pace. If you want to pray, you have to pray. Let us all remember that good intentions to pray are not prayers that are prayed.

Beginning at 3:15 a.m. and ending at 7:45 p.m., the monks assemble eight times throughout each day in their simple chapel to pray. Every two weeks they beautifully chant all 150 Psalms (our Lord Himself prayed these Psalms). In addition nearly all of the New Testament is read aloud during this same two week period. The fruits of their lifestyle are so readily apparent in their inner peace and unmistakable joy. Answering the deep longing voiced by my favorite band, I can say that they have found what I am looking for.

In a twist of irony, one of the most well-known Catholics in America last century was a member of this cloistered community. In 1948 Fr. Thomas Merton's (he was called "Fr. Louis" by his Trappist brothers) The Seven Storey Mountain became an instantly popular best-selling book. It now is hard to believe that The New York Times refused to put Merton's book on their weekly list on the grounds that it was "a religious book." Then, again, the vitriolic anti-Catholic attacks launched without restraint by the NYT today do have a long history.

Including paperback editions and foreign translations, the total sales of The Seven Storey Mountain has reached the multiple millions, and it continues to sell remarkably well year after year. Merton died unexpectedly in 1968. Before I left the monastery, I prayed at his grave which is marked by a simple cross bearing his name – exactly like all the others.

Near the monastery is the sacred site I long since had wanted to visit. In 1808 Pope Pius VII added four new dioceses to the United States: Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Bardstown (Kentucky). The new Diocese of Bardstown spanned the entire "Northwest Territories" and then some – what would come to be the present states of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Iowa and Wisconsin. The cathedral was completed in 1819. Although it still remains standing, today it serves only as a parish church under the jurisdiction of the Diocese of Louisville.

I was overwhelmed kneeling before the Blessed Sacrament inside the cathedral, realizing suddenly that I was adoring the same Lord Jesus Christ whose Eucharistic Presence brought the Catholic Faith to our part of the country.

Nearby small towns bear Catholic names and identities including Holy Cross, Loretto, St. Francis, St. Mary and St. Catharine.

+++++

Turning our sights closer to home, you no doubt have noticed our parking lot project is moving forward with the removal of some backyard garages. As the summer unfolds we expect to remove more structures. Dedicated and determined efforts on the part of some parishioners looks to have the demolition of dilapidated buildings accomplished without spending any parish money.

+++++

Fr. Jason and I are attending the national Life Teen Convention in Phoenix until Thursday, June 17 (www.lifeteen.com). I made the call to the bullpen to summon the 'ol right-hander and am thrilled that Fr. Phil agreed to take the mound while we are away!

From the Development Office:

As you may know, earlier this year Sandusky Central Catholic School and the entire Sandusky Catholic community lost a very dear and loyal member when Mary Ann Sloan lost her valiant battle with cancer. In her memory, Sandusky Central Catholic School has established the Mary Ann Sloan Tuition Assistance and Student Sponsorship Endowment Program to continue the important work she dedicated 11 years of her life to.

A portion of the money raised will be applied directly to the tuition of students whose families are facing financial difficulties and need help meeting their tuition obligation. It will also help to provide mid-year tuition support, if needed, to help current students continue their education at SCCS.

The remaining portion will be placed into the SCCS Education Foundation endowment fund. This endowment will provide student sponsorships in perpetuity, making it possible for families who truly desire an SCCS education to receive one.

For more information, please visit: www.MaryAnnSloanProgram.org
